Solid Wood

The Ozwood Solid Timbers' tongue and groove flooring are manufactured from natural Australian hardwoods that undergo a special drying process to ensure its stableness. Through seven procedures of strengthening, the applied Aluminium Oxide Urethane coating is penetrated through the timber, protecting it while highlighting its natural features and grains. The 18mm of pure solid wood floorboards can be refinished several times to provide a lifetime of enjoyment.

Engineered Wood

Ozwood Engineered European Oak series deliver the genuine look of solid timber in a more convenient and affordable way. It is sanded; polished and stained and are available in wide range of colours and textures. The hardwood veneer (3mm or 6mm) can be re-sanded or re-stained just like traditional timber floors.
